DIRECTOR GENERAL OF LEGISLATION,

WIDODO EKATJAHJANA

ELUCIDATION
OF
LAW OF THE REPUBLIC OF INDONESIA
NUMBER 20 OF 2016
ON
MARKS AND GEOGRAPHICAL INDICATIONS

I. GENERAL

An impact of globalization in all fields of life, whether social, economy, or culture continues to promote the development of economy of the society. Besides, the development of information and technology and means of transportation have led to a rapid development in the trade sector of goods and services. Increase in the trade flows of goods and services would likely to continue in line with a rising growth of national economic. Having regards to such facts and trends, it is reasonable to demand regulations which are more sufficient in providing legal certainty and strong protection. Moreover, several countries have relied more on economy and trade activities of products resulted from human intellectual capacity. Due to such facts, Mark as a creation of human intellectual which closely related to economy and trade activities holds a significant role.

A course of trading goods and services crosses States' borders. Therefore, mechanism of international registration of Mark should be utilized to provide protection for national Mark internationally. System for international registration of Mark based on Madrid Protocol is regarded as a mean to facilitate national business actors to have their Marks registered abroad conveniently and affordably.

Above all, Indonesia's participation in ratifying the Convention of Establishing World Trade Organization including the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights/TRIPs as enacted by the Law Number 7 of 1994 on the Ratification of Agreement Establishing the World Trade Organization; requires Indonesia to comply with and implement the provisions of the international agreements. The ratification has urged Indonesia's participation to ratify the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property which has been ratified by the Presidential Decree Number 15 of 1997 and the Mark Law Treaty which is ratified by the Presidential Decree Number 17 of 1997. These international agreements entail obligation for Indonesia to correspond its prevailing Mark Law in accordance with the provisions under the ratified international agreements.

One of the development currently emerges in the field of Mark is the protection for new type of Mark that constitutes non-traditional Marks. In the Law herein, the scope of protected Mark comprises of sound Mark, three-dimensional Mark, hologram Mark, which constitute as non-traditional Marks.

Furthermore, some improvement to enhance services to Mark Applicants is established. In order to facilitate Applicants in registering their Marks, it is imperative to have revisions or amendments to streamline the process and procedures of Mark registration. Stipulation on minimum requirements for Application will make it easier to file for Application by filling out Application form, attaching Mark representation, and paying Application fee. By fulfilling these minimum requirements, a Mark Application will be given Date of Receipt or filing date.

Changes in the flow of Mark registration process in this Law is intended to expedite the process of Mark registration. Conducting publication prior to substantive examination aims to integrate the substantive examination with examination in case of opposition and/or rebuttal so that avoiding re-examination.

In respect to Application for renewal of Mark registration, Mark owners are given opportunity to renew their Mark registration up to 6 (six) months after the expiry of their Mark registration. This provision is intended to prevent Mark owners from depriving their rights due to lapsing their Mark registration renewal.

Moreover, to provide better legal protection for registered Mark owner against Mark infringement committed by other parties, severe criminal sanction is charged particularly one which threatens human's health, environment, and induce death. Considering that issues on Mark are closely related to economic factor, herein these Law criminal sanctions are made heavier.

One of the subject matter enacted in this Law on Geographical Indications, considering that Geographical Indications constitute as national potential to serve as main commodity, both domestic and international trades. Therefore, this Law is stipulated and entitled Law on Marks and Geographical Indications.
